

Fr Sion Hughes Carew

Fr Sion was brought up on the Wiltshire Downs. He read Classics at the University of Edinburgh and, on completing his studies, moved to London with friends in 2008. He worked for ten years at Church House, Westminster in a number of different departments, including Clergy Payments, the Dioceses Commission, the Pensions Board, and the Legal Office. During this time, he undertook a master's degree in Canon Law at Cardiff University.

Formed for ministry at Westcott House in Cambridge and the Venerable English College in Rome, Fr Sion was ordained Deacon in 2021 and Priest in 2022. He served his title in the parish of Newsham and Horton on the outskirts of Blyth in Northumberland. During his curacy, his ministry also involved serving as secretary to Churches Together in Blyth, governor to a local primary school, trustee to a local community charity, and chaplain to the Blyth Branch of the Royal British Legion.

In his spare time Fr Sion enjoys exploring with Paul, his three-year-old flat-coated retriever sidekick. He (Fr Sion) also loves reading, especially poetry and detective fiction; listening to many genres of music; running, cycling and yoga; the theatre, galleries and opera; cooking and eating; and spending time with friends and his two young nephews. He, his mum Deborah, and Paul are looking forward very much to moving to Lincoln, and particularly to getting to know the people and communities of All Saints and St Mary-le-Wigford.
